Making apparel responsibly

Our mission is to be the apparel industry's leader in social responsibility and environmental stewardship. We take great pride in our strong reputation for ethical business practices and the success of our Hanes for Good corporate responsibility program, which includes an intense focus on workplace quality, environmental stewardship, community building and governance.

Hanes for Good is providing free medical care, including 6,300 consultations and 1,100 life-changing surgeries, for both our employees and the communities where we operate in the Dominican Republic.

MAKING T-SHIRTS RESPONSIBLY

From farm and production to consumer and repurposing

A Commitment to Environmental and Social Responsibility

80% of our products are made in Hanes-owned facilities or through our dedicated contractors - giving us the oversight to ensure our clothes are manufactured in an environmentally and socially responsible way.

Water-Wise U.S. Cotton

Most of our cotton is grown in the rain-rich states of the Southeast U.S., which provides enough natural water and eliminates the need for irrigation.

New Life

Hanes continues to explore ways to recycle and repurpose apparel to keep discarded clothes out of landfills.

Consumer

The majority of a cotton t-shirt's carbon footprint comes after it's sold. All Hanes printwear is cold water wash, greatly reducing energy used in cleaning.

Low-Waste Yarn Spinning

We ensure our t-shirt yarn is produced by environmentally responsible suppliers in energy-efficient facilities that minimize waste, and we're expanding our use of recycled and sustainable materials.

Using Renewable Energy

Much of the energy we use making t-shirts in the Western Hemisphere is biomass, hydro and geothermal, helping us avoid coal and oil.

Reducing Carbon Emissions

We have reduced our carbon emissions from material and product transportation and distribution by over 50% since 2008 through the use of ocean shipping and rail services over trucking.

Socially Active Employees

Across the globe, our employees help us further our eco-friendly business operations. They are also active in a unique philanthropic effort that pairs energy reduction savings and proceeds from recycling to fund community improvement. Since 2010, employees have donated nearly 500,000 hours to projects such as school and hospital upgrades, with $2.5 million in company funding.

We're a 10-time winner of the EPA Energy Star Award and proud to be the only apparel company to earn sustained excellence honors in the program's 27-year history.
